Mental Health Assistance for Community

Ronda Lancaster will be putting information on the back of the September calendar.

Ellen Warren asked that a bookmark still be developed. It was also suggested that information be put on website. Ronda will check with DC Press to see if they are still interested in laminating bookmarks.

Ice Cream Social and School Staff Appreciation Survey Results

Discussion was held about the COVID-19 comments at the different surveys. Comments included that community was going about businesses as usual. It seems that a lack of local cases is demotivating community members to wear masks and take precautions.

Critical Thinking

Anita Fernandez talked about the tutoring and that she preferred not to tutor in person.

Wondered what would happen if school is shut down again. Lindsay added that since HS students are not doing sports, it might be good for them to help tutor. Ronda will send a note to Ty.

Cecil Martin talked about the company that is doing egg production. Thought it would still be viable and a good idea. The owner is in the middle of prime property and could get a lot of pressure to move out of the area. The seed that he purchased indicated that Dolores County could have enough production to satisfy the needs. All present thought it would be good to contact him.

Chelsea Garchar said the farm was doing okay. Chelsea has been canning plum juice for the last two days. Kids happy to be back in school.

Ellen Warren didn't really have anything. Was cooking dinner which was 2 hours late. They are fortunate not to be in the way of hurricane Laura. Railing every day.

Lindsay Murdock reported that the school had a very smooth transition to in-school classes. Reported that Josie Garchar was proud that she had grown enough to see the lunch ladies.
